Declaration on the Supply Chain Due Diligence Act (LkSG)

The law obliges companies falling within its scope to appropriately observe human rights and environmental due diligence obligations in their supply chains. The obligations a company must fulfill are graded according to its ability to influence the situation.

The law initially came into force in 2023 for companies with at least 3,000 employees; from 2024, it will apply to companies with at least 1,000 employees in Germany.
